Show Us Your Selfie

A little less than six years ago, Editor-in-Chief, Michelle Bryant was getting divorced from a twenty-five year relationship with her husband of twenty-three years. Although the ordeal was amicable, she felt unattractive, unwanted and then "pushing fifty" she felt as though she was "damaged goods." A friend encouraged her and told her she simply needed to get her SEXY BACK. Being a photographer and preferring to be on the other side of the camera, Michelle decided perhaps it was time to give it a try for herself. She went in the bathroom, stripped down, took her first "oohhh-la-la" SELFIE and found it to be quite liberating. Adding a special artistic effect to the photo Michelle soon realized her friend was correct. The original photo (shown here) was cropped for her Facebook profile photo received immense feedback and not only was the selfie a confidence booster but the entire experience was the catapult to her FOCUS ON FABULOUS glamour/bombshell photography business.

We challenged our readers to show us their selfies and be featured in our special anniversary issue. This page is dedicated to these beautiful, confident, courageous women took the plunge to believe enough in themselves and go for it! They are of all ages, walks of life and sizes. They have also shared a little about their experience and why they like their selfie.

"On VACATION. Getting on a plane soon."

"Bare with NO MAKE UP " :)

"NOT too shabby"

"Being me & HAPPY with being me"

"Wearing my Broncos jersey & showing my GIRLIE side."

"First selfie ever. CONFIDENT with my new do!"

"My love calls me BLUE eyes."

"One of my FAVS. DREAMING of clear skies."

"Working. WISHING I could be outdoors."

"I actually LIKE it"

"Tilt my head slightly, position phone. I personally LOVE this selfie."

"Just learning how to take them. This is my FAVORITE one. "

"I can still SMILE despite all I've been through."

"Not totally a fan of selfie world, but I'm CUTE"

"I think I like my SMILE"

"Feeling totally STRESSED FREE"

"Feeling BEAUTIFUL"